

For Immediate Release
October 21, 2009
Information: Karen Rudd
206.328.2200 x235
karen@pratt.org

"Fall Into Art" with Affordable Mini-Classes at Pratt Fine Arts Center

Pratt Fine Arts Center invites the public to register for its affordable Fall Into Art classes taking place from November 15 - 25, 2009. These four-hour classes, including glassblowing, printmaking, welding and more, provide students with an opportunity to make art in Pratt's professional visual arts studios.

"Our mini-classes are very popular with people making art for the first time," said Tracey Fugami, Education Director at Pratt. "They give complete beginners and experienced artists a taste of everything Pratt offers: outstanding instructors, a supportive environment and equipment-rich studios designed to bring out their inner artist."

Space is limited in these classes so early registration is encouraged.

Download our Fall Into Art Class brochure to learn more about this program or register online.
Or register by calling 206.328.2200 x0.

What: Fall Into Art Mini-Classes at Pratt Fine Arts Center
When: November 15 - 25, 2009
Where: Pratt Fine Arts Center, 1902 South Main Street, Seattle
Admission: $45 - $130/class
Parking: Free parking is available

Since 1976, Pratt Fine Arts Center has offered art classes for everyone and workspace for artists in its equipment-rich facilities in Seattle's Central District. Pratt serves 3,400 students each year and more than 500 working artists use Pratt's affordable studios and equipment.

###