Pratt Fine Arts Center presents PONCHO, the September exhibition at Pratt Gallery at Tashiro Kaplan Studios. This show features the work of the 2008 - 2009 PONCHO Artist-in-Residence and Gregory M. Robinson Pathways scholarship recipients Otong "Iron" Durahim, Carla Grahn, Sarah Hood, Akua Kariamu and Tina Koyama. These scholarship recipients will also present a lecture about their work in Pratt Studios on September 10 at 6:30pm.

The PONCHO Artist-in Residence and Gregory M. Robinson Pathways scholarships are two of the twenty-five merit or financial need-based scholarships offered in every visual arts discipline taught in Pratt's studios. Awards are used towards classes and studio rental at Pratt and are available for artists of color, adults and teens, and emerging and established artists.

"As an arts education and resource center, we are committed to making our classes available to everyone by offering scholarships, work study opportunities and tuition assistance," said Director of Education Tracey Fugami. "Last year, Pratt awarded $35,650 in scholarships to twenty-five emerging and established artists."
